Due to the overwhelming amount of spam mails being sent to our accounts at optivec.com, we are forced to give up these email addresses. It simply cost us too much time to sift through the garbage and find the genuine customer and user messages. At the same time, we obviously missed some of your messages, which were buried under the heaps of spam.

From now on (and until we might again be forced to change the address), please use

optivec@gmx.de

for any inquiries.

We apologize for any inconvenience.
